FEATURING

DR. ELIZABETH HALE

UNIVERSITY OF NEW ENGLAND, AUSTRALIA

In picture books, comics, novels, and more, Classical Antiquity is alive and well in the children's culture of the Antipodes. Gods, heroes, monsters, myths, dramas, find their way to the very far South, and take up residence in the imaginations of artists, and storytellers. This talk shows the range, variety, and distinctive qualities of classical reception in Australian and New Zealand literature and culture.
